

Tip of the month: February 2009

Listen to President Obama!

In order to improve your level in English it is important to listen to the language as often as possible.

Why not listen to Obama's weekly addresses online? To do so, follow these steps:

Connect to the website: http://www.whitehouse.gov/weekly_address/

You can watch the video of Obama's speeches by clicking on: watch now

Under the video clip you can read the text at the same time.

Try to listen the first time without reading the text to see how much you understand.

Good luck!
